I am strongly against NAB's petition 04-160. Satellite radio is providing a service no other network can provide. Travelling 160,000 miles a year I have always found it hard to find traffic and weather info available 24 hours a day. Now we have it and I find it ironic that the NAB is now complaining. If they worked on improving their own delivery and left some local stations, instead of buying monopolies, we wouldn't need the service of satellites.

It is their own fault they have driven away customers. They need to work on improving the delivery of their own product instead of crying foul.
